The ceremony at the Cleveland High School Memorial Forest was a little different this year compared to most. It wasn’t a school day so the students were there because they wanted to be and not just to get out of school. Because there was no school, there was no hurry to get the students back to CHS by the time school was dismissed.

Bernie Moskowitz ’57 told two stories about Taps - a Hollywood version and the true version. There was a “folding-of-the-flag” by two students and a presentation of the flag to Rosa Facciuto ’36. The Honor Guard firing a 3-volley salute and Bernie playing Taps.

John Barton ’54 ended up being his own guest speaker (he couldn’t find anyone) and decided that the students were going to learn something about World War II. Considering that some of the students have spent 65% to 80% of their lives living during the War on Terrorism (WoT), he started by relating their experience in 12 years to the older alumni living through the 3 years 8 months of WW II. Barton asked the students what impact the WoT had on their lives — they shrugged their shoulders and said nothing. He asked if they knew anyone in the military — one named a cousin and another mentioned her aunt’s boyfriend.

Barton then went into the experiences that the older alumni had during the war of their youth. He talked about air raid wardens and rationing — some al-

DEDICATION OF The ED LANDON LIBRARY

A Day to Remember

By Dorothy (Bosnich) Clausen

The beginning of what would become a memorable event was held on June 29th at Cleveland High School. The enthusiasm was contagious as alumni met friends and former classmates they hadn’t been seen in years. Memories were instantly revived. Even the principal, Princess Shareef, sacrificed her first official day in retirement to participate. Music with a “Pep Assembly” spirit brought everyone into the auditorium. Everything was ready to pay tribute and honor to Mr. Ed Landon. Many gave willingly to make this a day to remember.

Family members of Mr Landon came from as far away as Arizona and Oregon, including daughters Marlys Alger, Barbara Doern, and Judie Hensel and family members of deceased son, Ric. Others in attendance included a host of former students who came to honor their beloved teacher, coach, counselor and friend. Everyone received a brochure of Ed Landon with a brief overview of his life.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS
CLASS OF 2013
By JoAnn Victor Smith '56

Once again the alumni board voted to allocate $15,000 toward scholarships for deserving seniors at Cleveland. Total scholarships awarded since 1998 is now $105,065 to 54 students. We couldn’t do that without contributions from all of you CHS Eagles. Thank you so much!

We all know that college is expensive. Most students at Cleveland are eligible for a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid). The amount is based on financial need that considers the parent/guardian’s income. The amount awarded is usually less than $6,000. Some students receive other scholarships as well but generally there is a need for all of them to take out loans. We hope to make that gap a little smaller.

This year the scholarship committee reviewed 12 applications. As usual the choices were difficult as all were excellent students. The committee consisted of six alumni: Louise (Araki) Gales, Jim Morishima, JoAnn (Victor) Smith, Ben Wakefield and Jay Turner. Mary Ann (Bosnich) McCord joined us to represent the Ed Landon Scholarship choices. Candidates planning to major in Education were given extra consideration. The decision was made to award 5 scholarships using CHSAA scholarship monies. Two of those students are planning to enter the Education field. After their first year of college, these two students will be reviewed by the committee and potentially will receive further funding toward their continued education from the Ed Landon Scholarship Fund.

The following students each received a $3,000 scholarship. Awards were made at the “Moving Up” assembly on June 7th. We wish them all great success in all their studies.

MARY LE: Mary found an outlet for her struggle with reading, she helped younger students. Both were rewarded by success. This helped Mary cope with the difficult situation at home. She plans to use her skills gained through college by studying Early Childhood Education as she loves working with children. She will attend the U of W at the Bothell campus. Mary has volunteered as a peer mentor in school and Glee Club. She has also worked with a group of Youth Ambassadors to stress the importance of education. She has received two Soaring Eagle awards. Mary also was involved in volleyball during the school year.

RODRIGUEZ PHAM: Rodriguez maintained a 3.9 GPA throughout high school. He plans to study Mechanical/Bio Engineering at the University of Washington and work in a field that would benefit people’s lives. His extracurricular activities were many: Robotics, Upward Bound, Youth Leadership Council, Youth and Government, break dancing teacher and he is a National Honor Society Founding Member. He received awards in Robotics, Math Academy and Math both through the U of W Upward Bound program.

YAMARA RUIZ: Studies in the field of Education are on the horizon for Yamara. She will attend Western Washington University. She has been involved with Youth & Government, Latino Student Union and Upward Bound. She was also recognized with a Soaring Eagles award and an SAT astonishing student award. Her hobbies include reading, writing stories, media manipulation, and volunteering with community service organizations. She has maintained good grades all the while assisting at home with two autistic brothers.

ZACHARY TONG: The field of medicine is of keen interest to Zackary. He isn’t sure to what degree yet. His inspiration is his dad who has sacrificed a lot to enable Zachary and the rest of his family to pursue education. He volunteers in the Chinatown community. School activities include Running Start, U of W Upward Bound, and taking many Advance Placement courses. He participates in Track/Field, Cross Country, Basketball and Swimming. Zachary maintained a 3.95 GPA.

MICHELLE WASAN: The University of Washington is where Michelle will start her studies in the fall. She plans to major in Bio-Chemistry (Pre-Pharmacy). She envisions helping others while exploring new technology from different view points. Community service is a big part of Michelle’s life: Team Read Tutor, Math Tudor, Home care volunteer and library volunteer. She was also involve in Key Club, Library Club, Junior Varsity Tennis and was a Dream Project participant. For fun she likes drawing, reading, playing piano, photography, astronomy, cooking among other activities. She did all this while maintaining a 4.0 GPA. Michelle’s financial need was compounded by the fact that her brother is also graduating and starting college in the fall.
ums joined in by mentioning other impacts of the war. Barton knew what the Gold Stars in the window meant but needed an alum to confirmed the meaning of the Blue Stars. Barton new that cooking grease was collected but didn’t know why. An alum volunteered that it was used in making munitions. There was a good exchange about rationing: why parents couldn’t buy their students new bicycles and why nylon stockings were rationed. Back-and-forth the exchange went: asking the students why certain things would be rationed and the older alumni providing the answers.

Barton mentioned the book, Honored Dead, written by Pat Rosenkranz ’47, and told how the book documented the military life of the 32 Cleveland High School alumni who died during the war. He went through the list of 32 people honored in the book by giving their name, their class year and a brief description of how they died.

Barton wrapped up his presentation by covering how many of our “fallen heroes” were in each branch of the service, that their ages ranged from 19 to 29 and that 2/3rd of them ranged in age from 20 to 22. He ended by telling how one died in a typhoon a month after the war ended and another dying in 1946 from wounds received in 1943.

One woman, Rosa Facciuto ’36, commented to Barton afterwards that he must have done a tremendous amount of research to obtain all of the information that was presented. “No,” he replied that, “It all came from the book by Pat Rosenkranz.”

Just about every year Bernie Moskowitz goes to the high school and teaches two volunteer students how to fold the flag so that they can participate in the ceremony at the Forest. This, along with his bugling, is well appreciated by those who attend the Memorial Weekend event.

Three trees were provided by Jerry Rosso ’56 (Rosso Nursery) for the students to plant with one girl bringing her own tree to plant. A tree was also planted in the name of Mr Landon. Moskowitz will also make copper tags for the trees listing the students involved in the planting.

[Editor’s Note: Jerry Rosso ’56 has been donating trees for the CHS Memorial Forest for years with absolutely no recognition for his good deeds. The Rosso Nursery is located in Tukwila at 12525 E. Marginal Way S. One can get there by taking Pacific Highway South, exiting onto S 130th St, going east and turning north on E. Marginal Way S.]

We had a GREAT group of students—they joined in to set up chairs for the ceremony without being asked and asked if there was anything else they could do. At the end of the day they helped clean up and put chairs and equipment away. One freshman was heard saying that she was going to come back every year.

We didn’t have the right “KEY” to the main gate for the property but Annette Duvall, the CHS Athletic Director, brought bolt cutters and that’s how we entered the CHS Memorial Forest grounds. Ms Duvall is a woman who knows how to get the job done. We greatly appreciated her for helping to organize the “Trek to the Forest.” (It is ridiculous that CHS does not have their own key to the Forest. This is not the first time that we’ve been locked out.)

For the first time ever, to our knowledge, even the Honor Guard stuck around and made the trek to the Rock. It was a beautiful ceremony honoring our Fallen Heroes, GREAT students and it didn’t rain. Some of these students will remember this experience for the rest of their lives.

RISING EAGLES AWARDS PROGRAM
Inspires students to excel

The Soaring and Rising Eagle Awards is an academic awards ceremony to honor those students who have earned a 3.20 or higher grade point average and academic improvements over the course of the year. We honor the students by giving them plaques, medals, certificates and for those students with a 4.0, they are honored with an iPod.

We invite individuals or graduating classes to donate to the Soaring and Rising Eagle Fund and to have their name placed on the program plaque; a minimum donation of $600 is required for a class to be placed on the plaque and $400 for an individual. We strongly encourage CHS alumni to support the current students of your alma mater by donating to this program.

Assistant Principal
Cleveland High School

Mary Ann (Bosnich) McCord spearheaded the project of naming the library to honor Mr Landon along with Princess Shareef—this was not an easy path. A major hurdle was getting approval from the Seattle School District.

Mr. Landon left his imprint on many Cleveland High School students. He was a unique teacher who cared about his students and where they were going in life. He saw in some abilities that others did not see. He encouraged many to take full advantage of their capabilities by setting higher goals than they had set for themselves. Overall, he left a lasting impact on many students. As a result, many students went on to college, became teachers and hopefully passed on the values that he instilled in them.

In sports Coach Landon worked to make the most of a difficult situation. With Cleveland High School being the smallest school in the district he didn’t have an abundance of assets to work with. Like any coach he featured conditioning and technique-of-play but he realized that the team needed more. Landon worked hard on developing a winning strategy. As an example, in Landon’s first year as head football coach, Dick Minice ’55 tells about a big game against powerhouse Lincoln High School. Lincoln was leading the state by averaging over 400 yards per game with 300 plus yards on the ground. Landon had observed in other games how Lincoln lined up on the ball and shifted into their play position. Their line up and shift gave a clue as to where Lincoln would run the ball. Providing this clue to Minice, Cleveland’s defensive captain, they were able to stop Lincoln cold. The net result is that Cleveland held Lincoln to three yards on the ground and nine yards in the air for a total offensive game of 12 yards. The game was a major upset with Cleveland winning 13 to 0.

The dedication program began as school assemblies used to begin at the old high school. Bernie Moskowitz ’57 led everyone in the Pledge of Allegiance and the American Creed. John Barton ’54, the MC, told how the dedication of the library in Mr Landon’s honor came about:

Mary Ann McCord ’57 went to her 50th class reunion and met her former teacher, Mr Landon, who was an invited guest. After meeting with him she decided to demonstrate her gratitude for the major impact he had on her life with a party celebrating his 93rd birthday which was about a month away. The gift for Mr Landon was a scholarship in his name. The CHS Ed Landon Scholarship Fund was created in 2007.

They didn’t expect too many people at the party. It had been 34 years since Mr Landon retired, the snow birds had already gone south for the winter and it snowed in Seattle on the that cold December day. The party planners were shocked when over 200 people showed up at the Glen Acres Golf Course.

An open microphone was shared by many former students who told of the impact that Mr Landon had on their lives. Mary Ann then realized that Mr Landon had affected far more students than just her.

In more recent years came the idea for a plaque to honor Mr Landon and finally naming the CHS library in his honor. The rest is history.

To refresh everyone’s memory Barton gave an overview of the testimonials by former students:

- Marilee (Winn) Johnson ’52 remembers that Mr Landon helped so many in so many different ways.
- Cherie Tucker ’58 telling how Mr Landon encouraged her to organize a protest against the student council who wanted to change the school’s Constitution.
- Paulette (Ellingson) Wannemaker ’60 recalling that Mr Landon wouldn’t approve her class schedule unless it included a foreign language which was required for college.
- Shirley Ann (Currie) Turner ’53 writing from England that Mr Landon remembered her and her brother some 40 years after he had them in class. Years earlier he had encouraged her to apply to Stanford for a scholarship. She did, and graduated from there.
- Dale Johanson ’57, who it seemed was going nowhere in life, telling how Coach Landon asked if he would go to college if he could get him a scholarship. Dale agreed and went on to WWU and then to BYU.
- Jim Yurina ’58 telling how Landon put him in at quarterback so he could get a date with a special gal.
- Ron Wayman ’53 telling a story that Mr Landon told about Ron stealing home base after he misread Landon’s sign. Ron claims it was someone else.

[Ed: But we all know it was really you, Ron.]

Mr Landon had opportunities to go to other schools to better his career but he and his wife Virginia always decided it was best for him to stay at CHS where the need for his skills was greatest.

The presentations in the school auditorium concluded with Trisha Smith, Mr Landon’s granddaughter, expressing the gratitude of the family to the alumni for honoring her grandfather. Princess Shareef spoke of the job of school teachers and how often their work goes unrewarded. She concluded by stating how special it was for the alumni to work to honor Mr Landon.

Marlys (Landon) Alger presented Princess Shareef with flowers for participating in the dedication project, and then she invited Mary Ann McCord to the stage to receive the recognition that she deserved for starting and leading the project.

With “Pomp and Circumstance” playing in the background, everyone then went to the library on the 3rd floor. After assembling in front of the library, Princess Shareef recited the formal words of the dedication and Mr Landon’s great-grandson, 4-year-old Dillon, pulled the cord to uncover the name over the door:

ED LANDON LIBRARY

A plaque will be placed in the library with a brief inscription telling why the library was named in Mr. Landon’s honor.

The scholarship fund and the library naming will serve to honor and pay respect to Mr. Landon’s twenty five years of service, 1948 to 1973, and the impact he had on the lives of so many students.

The Landon family has requested that memorbrances be made to the CHS Landon Scholarship Fund, which is managed by the CHS Alumni Association. These donations are tax-deductible (see page 15).

Many thanks to those who helped in the Ed Landon Library dedication, including: Principal Princess Shareef, Mary Ann (Bosnich) McCord ’57, Bernie Moskowitz ’57, Jim Yurina ’58, Shirley (Anthony) Ayers’57, Dorothy (Bosnich) Clausen ’58, Pat (Bosnich) Reindel ’60, Joanne Zarkades ’58, Mary Lou (Zarkades) Barton ’54, John Barton ’54 and many others.
VETERANS MEMORIAL

May 30th, 2013. A group of 30 people gathered on a cloudy day at Tahoma National Cemetery in south King County to dedicate the Cleveland High School Veterans Memorial which was funded by the CHS Alumni Association.

Bernie Moskowitz ’57 spoke about the monument, its design, the people that participated in the design and the location that he selected on the cemetery grounds. He worked with Roger Baker ’41, Pat Coluccio ’47, John Randal ’47 and Jim Southcott ’56 on the initial draft of the inscription and the basic configuration. Using their design concept and theme, John and Mary Lou Barton ’54 did the final configuration.

Tom Yokes, the Superintendent of Tahoma National Cemetery, spoke of the uniqueness of our monument relative to all of the other monuments at the cemetery and how appropriate it was to honor the veterans from our high school. There are thousands of organizations in this country and too few of them make the effort to honor their veterans. The Cleveland High School Alumni Association is to be commended for doing so.

Jim Turnbo, the former Superintendent of Tahoma National Cemetery, thanked us for honoring our veterans. He also spoke about the cemetery with its fabulous view of Mount Rainier, and made comparisons to other US cemeteries around the world.

Of the people in attendance, about half were alumni from the 1950s, a quarter from both the 1940s and the 1960s and one each from the 1930s and 1970s. The oldest was Rosa Facciuto from the class of 1936.

The quality of the CHS Alumni memorial is on par with any that are at this cemetery. It is excellent.
FALLEN EAGLES | IN MEMORIAM

Gerda and Hans Larsen both class of 1949 married after high school. Hans sadly passed away in 2012. Gerda made a donation in his memory to the CHS High School Memorial Forest. She related that Hans loved getting the newsletter and attending reunions when he was able.

Alice (Brinsmead) Hegna class of 1960 was honored by a donation from Kathleen (Gemmil) Stremick ’59. Alice passed away in 2009.

ALUMNI TEAM SUPPORT
Cleveland Athletics is excited to announce that we will be adding two “ALUMNI SUPPORT” nights for alumni this year. Our first ALUMNI SUPPORT night will be during football season on October 11th at our game with Franklin at 5:00pm in Memorial Stadium. We are still discussing how to make this a special event for both the alumni and for our football student athletes — we want this to be fun for everyone.
Our second ALUMNI SUPPORT night will be our home basketball game with Franklin on January 3rd. Game times have not been confirmed but we expect to have final details in the next newsletter.
Mark your calendars to attend both of these events. Your personal connection and support of our student-athletes is much needed and appreciated.

Former Principal Princess Shareef on her first day of retirement. She came back to help dedicate the Ed Landon Library. We wish Princess well. She is now an alumni like us. She was a peach to work with. I will miss her. — John Barton '54
July 2013: Our donation income this year has been consistent with previous years. We allocated $15,000 for scholarships this year, matching the amount in 2012.

We are waiting for the go-ahead on the Lyceum rebuild. This will be an opportunity to put our Memorial Forest funds to use. We will be sharing the project expenses with Garfield.

We have had discussions with Annette Duvall, CHS Athletic Director, regarding the challenges facing CHS for athletic fields, athletic equipment, and transportation issues.

CHS has more problems than other schools. If alumni feel this is worth addressing please send donations directed toward athletics. Ideas and feedback are appreciated.
