Eagles build on program with second straight crown

By SANDY RINGER
Seattle Times staff reporter

Tacoma — Expectations run high in the Cleveland High School basketball program. And the Eagles continue to live up to them.

Behind dazzling performances from its dynamic duo Saturday, top-ranked Cleveland claimed its second straight Class 3A state championship and third in the past five years.

Senior guards Makala Roper and MyMy Ladd combined for 33 points to lead the Eagles past Bishop Blanchet, 54-45, in an all-Metro League final at the Tacoma Dome.

“When you play high-school basketball you should expect to go to the state championship, and you should work toward that,” said coach Stephenie Wheeler-Smith, now in her sixth season. “I just don’t believe in playing basketball and not going to the state tournament at the end of the year. I just don’t.

“When I first came to Cleveland, my goal was to get their minds wrapped around the fact that they need to be competing at a level that gets them to the state tournament. I mean, why do you play high school basketball? And they understand that now, the kids that are here now, and the kids that are watching these players play are seeing it and wanting to be a part of it, and that’s the biggest thing for me. We want kids to keep coming here. We want to continue to build our program. We want parents to understand we’re not just coaches. We actually care about the individual kid.”

Roper and Ladd scored 11 a piece in the first half as the Eagles (27-2) built a 33-26 lead that the poor-shooting Braves (24-5) never recovered from. Roper, who has signed with UC Santa Barbara, finished with 17 points, five rebounds, three assists and three steals to earn MVP honors for the second straight year.

Ladd, headed to San Jose State, had 16 points, nine rebounds, four steals and two assists and was also an all-tournament first-team choice.

The Eagles, who have won 53 consecutive games against in-state opponents, played without senior starter Alexia Mefi, who severely sprained her right wrist in Friday’s semifinals. Juniors Joyce Harrell (eight points, nine rebounds) and Jayde Christopher (eight points, See CHAMPIONSHIP (PAGE 3) seven assists, three steals) helped fill the void.

Young Blanchet, back in the tournament for the first time since 2004, made only 11 of 25 free throws (two of the final 10) and missed multiple inside shots. Jadyn Bush, voted to the all-tourney first team, finished with 10 points and 12 rebounds, despite long stretches on the bench because of foul trouble. Taylor Chambers also scored 10 and was a second-team selection. Both are freshmen.

Senior Caitlyn Dixon added eight points, four rebounds and four assists, while sophomore Bella Kemp, Shawn Kemp’s daughter, contributed seven points and eight rebounds.
The Braves, who lost twice earlier to Cleveland by wider margins, trailed just 45-42 with 4:28 left in the game and went without a field goal the rest of the way. Coach Bryan Willison lamented the missed opportunities, but was pleased with the effort and season overall.

“I couldn’t be more proud,” he said. “The way these guys came together was just awesome.”

CHSAA
Volunteers Needed
We need help in publishing this newsletter with someone who has writing and computer skills, access to the internet and a desire to give back to the high school that helped make them the person they are today.

BOARD MEMBERS NEEDED
There are ?? vacant positions on the alumni board of directors in addition to those running for re-election.
The board meets 3-4 times per year at the school, generally on a Tuesday evening. The meetings usually last between 2-3 hours.
Please consider serving. We do lots of good things for Cleveland students.
To spread participation over the decades of attendance, we are especially in need of those in classes in the late 60s through 2013.
Contact any board member via email or telephone if you have any questions and/or are interested.

FEEDBACK FROM OUR READERS

Attn: John Barton and other Cleveland Alumni Assoc. members. “You have the pleasure ..” by John Barton really hit home. I am 90 yrs old and I am one of those people living on my Social Security with little to spare. But I do so enjoy and look forward to the newsletter so I can see not only what is happening at Cleveland High School, but about the affairs of the Association. I urge you to keep the Association for all of us that really care. (I am sure there are plenty like me.) I realize that there are always just a few that are willing to step up and help. But believe me there are many that really care but are not able to help. Again I am sending my $25 and thank you for the wonderful work and effort you put in for our enjoyment.
Correction, my husband Gene (Carl E Snodgrass) was listed as a Fallen Eagle in the class of 1941. He should be listed as class of 1945. He was a Navy veteran from World War II. Sincerely,
Lavonne (Cook) Raven ’41

To: Alison Sing. Just wanted to share with you about your recent article on the golf tournament. Great article, felt like I was there with your round. My new husband, John caught interest in the tournament article and said he would like us to join in next year. We are trying to figure out a schedule, so we will see what happens. Looks like all had a great time and the proceeds were very good this year. I am sending a contribution for the scholarship fund this week, help to support the cause. . . .

John Barton: I have saved all the newsletters over the years and the one for December 13, 2013 got torn in the mail and also got very wet so I requested a new one to save in good condition. It is always interesting to read about the news at Cleveland and also be informed of current and upcoming events. Sometimes I go back and look at events that took place years ago and also teachers and students who were at Cleveland when I attended. The newsletter staff has done a great job over the years and continues to do so now. I want to thank all of you for your time and hard work! Best regards,
Vince Responte “64”

PAUL WALLROF UPDATE
by Margie Wallrof Brown ’54

[Edit: Paul was the CHS football coach from 1958 to 1965.]

In past years when I attended Cleveland High School alumni functions I was usually greeted with . . . “Hi Marge, how’s Paul?” I would always assure everyone that he was as great as ever. Now when I’m asked, I have to respond that he is in his 80s and he has some health problems like most people in his age group.

Paul transferred to CHS from O’Dea in 1947 and graduated from CHS in 1950. He played tackle on the football team and lettered in his junior and senior year.

After graduating from CHS, Paul went to Everett Junior College and played football there for two years. He then joined the Marine Corps and traveled all over the country playing other military teams. After getting out of the Marine Corps he went to the UW where he was a walk on under Coach Darrel Royal who put him on the team as a tackle. In those days it was one-platoon football and Paul was a real competitor at 6-foot-3 and 220 pounds. He played on the varsity team for two years and was a starter in his last year.

After graduating from the UW Paul applied for and got a job teaching in Seattle public schools. He was assigned to Cleveland as the head football coach because it was thought he would be a good role model for CHS students.

Paul coached at Cleveland for eight years working with his former coach and longtime friend, Ed Landon.

In 1966 Paul got the position as assistant football coach at the University of Puget Sound. Two years later he became the head coach and stayed with UPS until his retirement in 1995.

The first couple of years in retirement Paul worked to improve his golf score and tried to empty Puget Sound of its fish. Living on Vashon Island he followed the Vashon High School football team and was dismayed by their quality of play. Paul got involved and became the head coach. Realizing that the high school boys lacked the fundamentals to play high school football, he started and implemented the very successful Vashon Youth Football program for kids in the 3rd through 8th grades. Success takes some time but eventually Vashon had some winning football seasons.

After spending several years raising money, coaching and getting parents and the community involved with the youth football program, Paul’s health mandated that he “hang up his cleats” in 2012. Paul had retired a few times before but he was invited back to help out and he just could not refuse his friends and associates that needed his help. He explained, “It’s hard to say no when someone asks me.”

As one reporter put it, “Wallrof is one of those coaches people can’t let go of. He’s an old Marine, someone who inspires the troops.”

In the Fall of 2013 many of Paul’s UPS players got together to honor his many years of coaching and raised $10,000 for the Vashon Youth Football program. What a tribute that was to him and the effort he put into developing community football on Vashon Island !!!

I read the alumni newsletter article to Paul about the death of his coach, Ed Landon, and we decided that we should contribute to the Landon scholarship fund. Much to my amazement, the next time I walked in his door, the first thing he asked was . . . have you sent in our contribution? It’s amazing. Paul is in his 80s with serious health problems but . . . the Cleveland Spirit is still strong within him.

One thing that gives Paul great satisfaction in retirement is his oldest grandson, Matt Overton, who is the long snapper for the Indianapolis Colts in the NFL. Paul is a one proud grandpa.

Whether you know Paul as a classmate, teacher, coach, golfer, fisherman or friend, keep those cherished memories as you remember him as the larger-than-life person who has lived his life to the fullest each and every day.
The CHS MEMORIAL FOREST
The Alumni Association Honors Our War Heroes

Cleveland High School is the only high school in the universe that has a Memorial Forest. Every Friday preceding the Memorial Day weekend the CHS Alumni Association has a ceremony at the Cleveland High School Memorial Forest to honor alumni* who lost their lives while serving in the United States Armed Forces. Our ceremony includes a guest speaker to tell stories about some of the men that are honored at our Memorial Forest, and about military life in the armed forces. Last year we had a great exchange between alumni who lived through WW II and students who knew little about conditions during the war.

A rifle squad from Camp Murray fires a salute to our fallen heroes and Bernie Moskowitz '57 plays Taps. Bernie is the lead bugler at Tahoma National Cemetery. CHS students participate in a flag-folding exercise, and the flag is presented to a survivor of a fallen loved one. This year two students will plant trees and their names on copper tags will be attached to their respective trees.

After the ceremony snacks are served to the students - we generally have one or two buses of students. Everyone is encouraged to make the trek to the Rock where brass plaques are mounted with the names of our fallen alumni. Initially, there was only one plaque for World War II. Since then plaques have been added for the Korean War and the Vietnam War. Fortunately we haven’t lost any alumni in the Iraq wars or in Afghanistan.

As can be seen in the maps below our Memorial Forest is located between Issaquah and Fall City. After the ceremony a number of us usually go to the Fall City Roadhouse & Inn for lunch. The Roadhouse provides a pleasant, old-fashioned setting that is perfect for renewing old acquaintances and making new friends. It’s a wonderful way to end a memorable day.

For a day you will long remember, join us for the ceremony at the Forest and for lunch at the Roadhouse.

NOTE: For those of you using a GPS the address is 28322 SE Issaquah-Fall City Road, Fall City, WA.

* Our fallen heroes of WW II are documented in Honored Dead by our own Pat Rosenkranz '49.

CHSAA GOLF TOURNAMENT
AUGUST 16TH 2014
PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

The CHS Alumni Association has had great success in recent years with the help of generous contributions and volunteer work by the alumni. A major focus is to make the Cleveland High School experience special and memorable for today’s students.

The high school years are both formative and transformative for this is when the seeds of each student’s future are sown and nurtured. Friendships are made, lifelong habits are formed, personalities bloom and the crossing from adolescence into adulthood is made.

Fond memories are made by the score, athletic contests are won or lost, school pride is born and embraced, academic struggles and achievements occur, pep rallies come and go, followed by school dances, school plays, your first kiss and finally its graduation and on to the rest of your life. The Alumni Association continues to work so these impressionable, formative years can continue to be what they were for past generations. Okay, we can’t help anyone with their first kiss but we can help make the CHS experience a memorable one.

This past year has seen some significant accomplishments by our Association. The Scholarship Committee awarded $15,000 in academic scholarships and it was also the second year for a special, additional scholarship program honoring former Cleveland High teacher, Ed Landon, who passed on last year at 98. These scholarships were awarded to outstanding CHS graduates who were actively pursuing a degree in the teaching profession.

School teachers are so often crucial to the ultimate success of individual students and so often too are they role models who inspire countless teens to go on to achieve lifelong success. In addition to the Landon scholarship, the Alumni Association commissioned a plaque in Mr. Landon’s honor and it was dedicated and mounted a few weeks after the CHS library was named in his honor. CHS alum Mary Ann McCord ’57, with many others, worked to make this a reality.

Our annual golf tournament last August was an outstanding success and your participation helped the Association raise $10,000 for the CHS scholarships program. Board Members Jay Turner ’75, Danny Hagen ’75 and Helen (Woo) Nicdao ’79 and many others were the driving force behind this success.

Also, the Alumni association commissioned and dedicated a Veterans Memorial at the Tahoma National Cemetery. It stands in silent tribute to former students and staff of Cleveland High School who honorably served in the armed forces of the United States. The dedication ceremony was accompanied by the sounding of Taps by CHS alum Bernie Moskowitz ’57. Bernie is also the coordinator of the annual Memorial Day ceremony that takes place each year at the CHS Memorial Forest located on the Sammamish Plateau.

One highlight of the event this year was the planting of trees by the students. The day seemed extra special and even the rifle squad from Camp Murray hung around to make the trek to the Rock. Most surprising is that the students came and it wasn’t even a school day.

The alumni association continues to work closely with both the faculty and the PTSA to support the student body. This includes active participation in meetings, fund raising events, awards assemblies and with award presentations.

WORK IN PROGRESS: We are working to provide funding so the CHS band members can have uniforms like the other high schools of Seattle. We have undertaken the project of rebuilding the Lyceum structure at the CHS Memorial Forest. This structure was destroyed a few years ago by an arsonist. One half of the necessary funding is in hand and we are actively pursuing the remainder. We hope to begin construction this summer. Permission from the Seattle School Board is presently pending.

One final must do item for the board is an aggressive outreach effort to attract a younger alumni to represent itself on our board so a wider range of eras are represented amongst the board members and volunteers. This year’s annual meeting saw early progress with the election of CHS alum Phally Mom-Kelly ’99 to the board.

We are looking forward to continued success in all that we attempt to do in the coming year. We are appreciative of and welcome any and all contributions of time, money, effort and best wishes from our alumni.

Go Eagles!
Ben Wakefield ’62

The JACK WHITE STORY
by John R Barton '54

I recently published this book about my cousin Jack White who graduated from CHS in 1943. The following comments are provided for alumni that are interested in the World War II era.

Following graduation Jack was immediately drafted into the military where he volunteered to serve in the Air Force. Prior to graduation he worked night shift at Boeing on the B17 production line. To facilitate his work schedule, he had permission from CHS for late arrival and early dismissal — a short school day.

In the service, Jack’s hope was to get mechanical training so he could work on B17s. Unfortunately, those schools were filled to capacity so he volunteered to fly and was sent to gunnery school for training. Eventually assigned to the 8th Air Force in England, he ended up flying 35 missions over Nazi-occupied Europe as a B17 waist gunner.

This book documents an interview with Jack about World War II. Jack tells about his in-flight experiences, including saving crew members who passed out because of oxygen problems, and kicking hung-up bombs out of the airplane while straddling the bomb-bay doors without a harness. (OSHA agents would have nightmares about these working conditions.)

On one mission Jack’s airplane, Ol’ Blood & Guts, was a straggler — forced out of formation because one engine was out and two others were badly leaking oil. A friend took a picture of Ol’ Blood & Guts from another plane, thinking he would never see Jack again. Lagging far behind the formation of allied planes, they were attacked by the new German jet fighter, a Messerschmitt 262. Having never seen one before, they thought that it was an American P51 with wing tanks . . . . but then one crew member shouted out . . P51, HELL !!! He’s shooting at us.

A relatively small book, it does include the evolution of Jack’s views about the enemy before, during and after the war as well as service life during the war. It covers surviving & fighting in -60°F weather (the B17 was not pressurized); attempts to avoid enemy flak; fighter protection; daylight vs nighttime bombing; the psychological effects of war; “over paid, over sexed and over here;” a comparison of air force duty with the Army’s foot soldier; V1 rocket attacks; going home; and the treatment of servicemen after the war. It even covers where to hide an a-hole compass.

Jack was awarded the Air Medal with 5 Oak Leaf Clusters. He retired from Boeing in 1986 and lives in Kent.

This book was published as an inexpensive way to make quality copies of Jack’s story so we can give them to family and friends. No profit is expected.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM UPDATE

Hi everyone.

March 12, 2014. Last night our Cleveland volleyball team hosted a fundraiser that was a two hour volleyball clinic run by five UW players. We invited players from other Metro Schools who paid to attend the two hour clinic. Since the new gym opened six years ago, Cleveland had yet to have the appropriate equipment needed to set up three practice nets. They have been trying to build a program with 20+ girls and one volleyball net. Not a recipe for success.

With the generosity of the UW players who donated their time (and had a blast by the way!), we were able to raise $555 to help offset the expenses of a set of volleyball pole pads, a new net, 10 new balls and a ball cart. The CHS Alumni Association also contributed funds to help pay for the second set of pole pads, which is much appreciated.

Check the picture out below. Proud girls with our new banners in the background and three nets set up! Our Cleveland girls got to share some Costco Pizza with the UW players, have a ribbon cutting, learn some techniques, get autographs and best of all…take lots of “selfies” after the event was over!

TREASURER’S REPORT

20 April 2014  by Allen Storaasli

General Fund and Scholarship Endowment Fund balances were presented at the Annual Meeting 18 January. Both fund balances have been increasing, largely due to favorable investments at Edward Jones.

At recent CHSAA board meetings we have also been discussing the possibility of providing the ability to make on-line donations (through a link on our website) in addition to the customary checks. We would like feedback on this idea. Note that the CHS PTSA receives on-line donations and on-line billing for the Red and White auctions. The purpose is to simplify the process for the donator.

DICP PANGALLO UPDATE

Inducted into the American Legion Baseball Hall of Fame

Growing up, Dick lived and played in South Park near Georgetown and went to Cleveland High School from grades 7 – 12 and graduated in 1949.

Dick played varsity baseball from the 10th grade on and was on the All-City baseball team for 3 years. After his senior year he played in the City/State All-Star games in both baseball and football.

Dick played outfield in baseball. As a hitter, he hit with tremendous power. Being a long-ball hitter, home runs were common for him – even in his early teen years. He had a high batting average that was above .335 for his three varsity years.

Dick played American Legion baseball for 3 years. After his high school days he played summer semi-pro (Seattle Teamsters for 3 years) for coach Bill Rhineford. Other notable players included Frank Papsadero and Gale Miller.

Dick received a football scholarship at the UW where he played guard and tackle for two years. They wouldn’t allow him to play baseball so he quit the UW program and went to Western Washington College (today WWU) where he played guard and linebacker.

After college Dick was an educator for 39 years (36 in Seattle) and coached for more than 30 years. Over his career he taught and coached at West Seattle, Lincoln and Chief Sealth high schools. Teaching included health education, math and PE. Coaching was primarily in baseball and football. In his last two years he was the student work coordinator and this included Cleveland High.

He has had many successes at coaching, one being the Seattle Metro Football Championship in 1961 when West Seattle beat Ballard 7 to 6.

In 1995 Dick was inducted into the WWU Football Hall of Fame, and last November (2013) he was inducted into the American Legion Baseball Hall of Fame.

Dick is regarded as a caring man who had the knack of making the students feel special and important. He was a father figure to untold numbers of students and athletes, and many still keep in touch with him. He has a style, mannerisms and word choices that greatly and positively impacted student athletes. And his words were almost always accompanied with a smile which brought authenticity and realness to his communication. The lasting effect he has had on so many students is significant.

His son, Matthew, recalls going on family vacations as a kid . . . Everywhere we went we ran into people that new Dad. Dad showed us the right way to live and how to treat others. He is a principled man who taught us high standards and good morals.

His classmate, Don Mills ’49, says that Dick is highly regarded as a teacher and appreciated because of the “person” that is . . . Dick Pangallo.

Dick presently lives on Mercer Island with his wife, Hazel. They have four children and 16 grandchildren.
